One of the docs has change tracking (vs. yesterday's "clean" version), the other does not.

I wrote everything in Lisa's name, copied from the furnace letter. Don't know if that's correct, let us know.

I inserted several sections tooting SoCalGas' horn (merged from the furnace letter), and a large section about marginal electricity cost (Q5). That's been a pet peeve of mine for a long time and it beats me why PG&E never wants to address it. From hallway conversations with Marshall, because "they'll never do anything about it", but is that reason enough?? It's a big deal IMHO.

I got rid of some more of PG&E's verbiage, but also retained some that was just plain good IMHO. If you need a diff of this document vs. PG&E's latest original let me know. About 50% of the letter is pure "us" at this point, and the rest has been modified to various degrees. Similarities to PG&E's letter are still recognizable.

Happy reading

Marc

K I'll start working on something after 8. Ill update the format a bit and shorten it, maintaining all the points, and adding the ones from the separate soCalGas ideas

I think it would be best to get her a draft by the morning so she can make her edits then have a final done at the earliest.

I think we can rephrase what we have so far in our own words. If pge objects that we stole some of their ideas and just used our own words, too bad, I think.

Do you want me to get on that tonight, or is there a redacted version from Sue coming?

I just touched base with Sue and SoCalGas will be looking to submit an individual comment letter. Since we can't simply copy and paste from their letter I was thinking we could extract the inputs we had and add our LCC comment etc. please let me know if this is feasible and if you have any questions.

Thank You,

Daniela Garcia

Hi Daniela,

wanted to let you know that Bo and I will need to wrap up our contributions to this tomorrow by 5:30pm and 3pm respectively; I have a long standing plan with my kids, and Bo has something else planned as well. Before then, anything goes, including late evening today if necessary. The sooner you could let us know what we still have to do the better.

The deadline has no time associated with it, which technically makes it 9pm tomorrow.

Thanks!!

Hi Daniela,

Do you have an update for us on this? How can we assist further? The DOE deadline is tomorrow.

Thanks,

Bo

Hi Sue,

please find attached our updated version of the RFI response, in two versions

- marked up, where all previous edits were accepted excepts yours and Daniela's.

Bo's and my new additions and deletions are tracked, too.

- same as above but completely clean of any tracking, comments or author information.

I attached a few additional ideas in a separate document that we already know are most likely going to be socialgas only, so we haven't fleshed them out or included them yet.

The LCC methodology and problems we see with its data were socialgas-separate earlier, but are now included in Question 4 of the main file.

Take that, PG&E ;)

Cheers
