We are finalizing the letter and will have a draft to the MA team by COB Friday for review and comment. We will then work with folks to update the letter based upon your comments (additions, changes and deletions). After that we will send the finalized letter out for final review before docketing. The comments will be due July 11th and we will send the revised comment letter out on July 12th for final review and approval. Final approvals will be due by COB July 13th. Will that timeline work for you?

Hi Mary,

What is the latest status of the RFI response? Next steps? I haven't heard anything since the call that you had last week.

Thanks, Bill

Thank you for your participation on today's call, was helpful. Please see the initial comments to the RFI and review them with your internal management. Please send me any comments or concerns your utility may have and I would be happy to work through them with you. We will be sending the draft comment out soon.

I look forward to working on this with you!

Mary Anderson
